

Join us for ACI's HR, and Diversity and Inclusion Leaders Breakfast Nov. 7

Oct. 4, 2018

ACI will soon host its second annual HR, and Diversity and Inclusion Leaders breakfast event Wednesday, Nov. 7, at the University Club of Chicago, 76 E. Monroe St.

Speakers include Dr. Laurie M. Joyner, president of ACI member Saint Xavier University, Chicago. The program, "Cultural Strengths: Moving Beyond The D&I Workshop," will be presented by Monika Black and Tomer Yogev co-founders of TandemSpring. The Chicago-based executive coaching firm focuses on strengths-based approaches to leadership development, diversity and inclusion, and strategy optimization for leading organizations. Founded in 2010, notable clients include Teach For America, Gallagher Bassett, Microsoft and the Anti-Defamation League.

Monika Black, left, and Tomer Yogev, right, are co-founders of TandemSpring. Both will present at the Nov. 7 breakfast.

"Learn from the minds behind industry-leader TandemSpring how their unique strengths-based diversity and inclusion model allows individuals and teams to leverage character and cultural strengths to make D&I work a more inviting, dynamic and continuously evolving journey for all involved," according to the program description. "Large corporations, startups, universities and nonprofits have all benefited from TandemSpring's Cultural Strengths approach by making D&I transform from just another mandatory workshop to the enlightening and introspective journey it was always meant to be."

Corporate and higher education leaders working in human resources, career services, as well as diversity and inclusion officers, should plan to attend. Online registration is available through the close of business, Monday, Nov. 5.
